THINGS TO WORRY ABOUT

Oil fields are being developed in German New Guinea.

Nearly four hundred women applied for patents in England last year.

There are more islands in Lake

Huron than in any other known lake.

There are 1,435 institutions in the United States for the care of children.

The area of corn harvested in the United States in 1912 was 195,820,000 acres.

Extensive plantings of young trees in Washington and Oregon are costing only $4 an acre.

Another pineapple cannery costing $250,000 is to be built in Honolulu for handling 12,000 tons of fruit annually.

I am a Republican and expected the Democratic administration would deal a death blow to the wool industry," said Mr. Sals today. "But just the contrary has been the case. Last year, under Republican administration, I sold my wool for 11 1/2 cents.

This year I got between 14 and 15 cents. The conclusion is that it is the demand for wool and not politics which governs prices.

"The year has been the best in five years for lambs and the demand is already brisk for October and November delivery. I have had a number of inquiries for lambs, one alone for 10,000. I believe the price will be five cents this year, which is another argument against Democratic influences being harmful to the sheep business. It is as yet too early to contract, but the lamb buyers are already beginning to skirmish around and line up promises for fall delivery."

An alleged free-for-all fight at 738

East street yesterday yielded four prisoners to Officer Salazar early today. Salazar responded to a call from Charles Phillips, and he returned to headquarters with a taxi-load of captives. They were Jacobo

Garcia, Sabio Sedillo, Calena Garcia

and Antonio Herrera.

The four are charged with disturbing the peace by fighting. None of them was much hurt. They will be arraigned for hearing before Police

Judge George H. Craig tomorrow morning. The judge is in Santa Fe today attending a Masonic gathering.

ENGINE REPAIRED:

VETERAN FIREHORSES

BACK ON THE FARM

Tom and Jerry, the veteran fire-horses which were recalled to service when the automobile fire engine went out of commission ten days ago on account of a broken crankshaft, returned to pastoral life today. The auto engine was put back in service last night, with a new crankshaft. It was completely overhauled during the days when the department waited the arrival of a new shaft and everything ran sweetly in time when it was tried out by Frank Haynes, the factory expert sent to get it back in shape.

The horses went back to the Mental farm, the management of which bought them when the auto engine came to supplant them.
